1. A die is rolled three times. What is the probability that you get a larger number each time?

Answer _____

2. Two screws are missing from a machine that has screws of three different sizes. If three screws of different sizes are sent over, what is the probability that they are what's needed?

Answer _____